

University	Collaboration Activity	Summary of Gaps in Service (from membership not individual universities)
Northumbria University	Dual degrees at both UG and PGT level with our European partners. At UG level we're building this offer into Erasmus partnerships, so that students can opt for one semester eramsus, or two semesters and get a NU degree. At PG we've leveraged partnerships to deliver dual awards across Sweden, France, Germany, Holland and Belgium. This allows students to get degrees from both locations, and to get European exposure. A multi-partner project where students can access an NU, Loughborough and European masters in partnership, depending on what particular bit of renewable energy they're interested in.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Sector support service for coordinating European partnerships &amp; collaborations.</li> </ul> The challenge is that each UK HEI will have their own approach to how this might work, whereas a single position or a centralised support function, would give a Brand UK approach to this. Support is patchy there is a need for sector input to create a service that is fit for purpose. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Inclusion of HE as part of trade, export, industrial and economic growth strategies</li> <li>• Following on from this HE inclusion in missions and strategic negotiations. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>○ For example TNE to be included in Gov to Gov discussions and agreements as part of a bigger agenda, so that TNE is seen as an investment. TNE is costly with no huge financial return, so in key emerging European markets it would be good to look at negotiating a knowledge management and skills agreement that recognises the need for host country investment and the creation of appropriate support mechanisms and systems to help universities deliver that.</li> </ul> </li> </ul>

York St John University	York St John University and the University of Agder (Norway) – Twin cities  Following a successful Erasmus+ partnership between York St John University and the University of Agder (Norway), York and Kristiansand city councils would like to develop our cooperation further and become twin-cities. Last year, a delegation from Kristiansand (university and city council) visited York and York St John University to discuss this new cooperation. York St John and Oslo MET (Norway) – traineeship agreement in Physiotherapy / Occupational Therapy  York St John University and Oslo MET University have established a traineeship programme allowing Physiotherapy and Occupational Therapy students to undertake their placements at York Hospital or Oslo MET University hospital. This project is available to students thanks to a four-way collaboration between the two universities and hospitals which welcome and support students throughout their placement. York St John University and Katholische Universität Eichstätt-Ingolstadt (Germany) – Academic collaboration between the International Centre for Community Music (ICCM) and their MA Music and Community York St John University and Vic University (Spain) – Academic collaboration and Erasmus+ staff exchange between the Education departments.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• A service to help UK HE develop connections with European businesses for research, skills &amp; curriculum development, placement year programmes, internships and other collaborations to underpin employability outcomes.,  A collaboration with external Businesses in the EU would allow export and economic development, and help universities to develop their students' employability and communication skills preparing them for a global workplace.</li> <li>• If the UK choses to create its own Erasmus model, help to create links to EU partner universities and other partners for outreach programmes (in the UK and abroad) – this collaboration would allow potential students to get an international outlook on their future studies and promote international mobilities in both countries</li> <li>• UK HE promotional events &amp; showcases to demonstrate the value of UK HE as research partners, collaborative partners, and as a study destination. Not recruitment fairs, innovative showcases that influence the influencers, highlight the UK's continued relevance and commitment to being a strategic partner and contributor with the capability to deliver the skills needed for the future. A roadshow capable of replication in all the key European countries. There is currently no UK branded co-ordinated promotional activity and our</li> </ul>
